

Haute Design Members Show How to Elevate Interiors for Children's Rooms

SHARE THIS POST!

May 26, 2023 by Haute Residence

Just because your kids might not care for interior design, that doesn't mean their rooms can look any less stunning than the rest of your home. Our Haute Design experts demonstrate how to step up the interiors of kids' rooms so the whole family looks the part.

Photo Credit: Joe Traina

Ryan Hughes Design Build

Elevated room designs for children are not solely found indoors. "An award-winning design by our Ryan Hughes Design Build team provides an example of features and furnishings that can inspire and elevate in a truly classic manner," relates Hughes. In one such magical outdoor play space, Lewis Carroll's Adventures in Wonderland was brought to life in a walled-in children's courtyard. The design included a custom reflecting pool for gazing into, a swinging bed for cat-napping and a giant checkerboard surface set for a larger than life chess game. Each element provided the continuity and creativity of the theme required for elevation of a child-focused design.